

Greg has provided community planning and design to many private development clients. He has been involved in all phases of project planning and design, including project programming, land use planning, zoning, site planning, design development and design documentation. Greg successfully provides balanced planning solutions that respect the natural environment, site history and site context while maintaining economic viability for the developer. His approach to planning provides the foundation for quality developments, resulting in places that both the community and developer value.

education

Bachelor of Science in Landscape Architecture
The Ohio State University, 1997

registration

Registered Landscape Architect
Ohio, 2006

associations

American Society of Landscape Architects
NAIOP Commercial Real Estate Development Association
Urban Land Institute