

Paul's professional experience primarily focuses on site design, construction documentation and observation on a wide variety of project types. Representative projects include town centers, retail developments, hospital improvements, public parks, and institutional landscapes on both the local and state levels. He is a LEED Accredited Professional who brings his knowledge of sustainable site technologies to all of his project work. Paul received a Bachelor of Science from The Ohio State University and an Associate Degree in Forestry from Hocking College.

education

Bachelor of Science in Landscape Architecture
The Ohio State University, 1990

Associate Degree in Forestry
Hocking College, 1986

registration

Registered Landscape Architect
Ohio, 1998

LEED Accredited Professional

awards

American Society of Landscape Architects
Student Merit Award
Special Commendation, 1990