

THOMAS BOYD, LEED AP

Tom's professional experience in the southeastern United States has included work on a variety of public and private projects, from residential gardens to large scale master plans. He is involved in all project phases, from conceptual design to construction documentation and administration. Tom has a strong interest in park and recreation design and has had the opportunity to be involved in several park and greenway projects.

education

Bachelor of Landscape Architecture Mississippi State University, 2004

registration

LEED Accredited Professional

associations

National Trust for Historic Preservation